

Château Coupe Roses

Minervois

“For wine consumers, especially those who like hand-crafted, highly individual wines that express the place where they were grown and are sensibly priced, the Languedoc-Roussillon is the perfect playground.”

Jancis Robinson/FT, www.jancisrobinson.com (June 5, 2010)

2008 Minervois “La Bastide”

“This entry-level release from Chateau Coupe Roses shows appealing aromas and flavors that feature red fruit notes but show some suggestions of dark berries as well.”

88 points– Michael Franz, winereviewonline.com (November 30, 2010)

2007 Minervois “Cuvée Vignals”

“This is a seriously appealing wine that will be admirably versatile thanks to a combination of soft structure but expressive aromas and flavors. It is comprised of Syrah and Grenache with a little Carignan, and the fruit notes offer suggestions of both black and red fruits, with almost no overt wood notes intruding on the wine’s appealing fruit.”

90 points– Michael Franz, winereviewonline.com (November 30, 2010)

2007 Minervois “Cuvée Granaxa”

“Named after the local dialect’s term for Grenache, this wine’s juicy, winning profile is drawn from that variety along with a little Syrah. Although it is notably dark and rich in appearance and feel, there is a juiciness and playfulness that makes the wine seem as much feminine as masculine.”

91 points– Michael Franz, winereviewonline.com (November 30, 2010)