

Gilbert Picq & ses Fils

Chichée

“Careful readers know that I have been beating the drum for the quality that Picq consistently achieves and for the prices, they offer almost unbeatable value. Note that the house style is ultra pure with no wood.”

Allen Meadows, Burghound, Issue 36 (4th quarter, 2009)

“The wines of Picq represent some of the most amazing values in Chablis, not only on account of the reasonable prices asked for their two premier crus, but for the frequently premier cru quality exhibited by their trio of villages wines, a quality that is nothing short of astonishing in 2007.”

David Schildknecht, The Wine Advocate, Issue 186

“The Domaine Gilbert Picq only produces four [sic] wines, all unfortunately reserved from one year to the next. This readily explains the great rigor that can be observed here throughout the chain of winemaking, from the vine to the bottle.”
