

St. Innocent Williamette Valley

“Mark Vlossak, ensconced in his new winery, seems to be taking St. Innocent to new heights even in the challenging 2007 vintage. Do not overlook the excellent values, particularly the white wines.”

Jay Miller, The Wine Advocate, issue 185

2007 Chardonnay Freedom Hill Vineyard

“Clean, juicy and fat-free, with excellent finishing clarity and cut. A serious value in grown-up, vibrant chardonnay. This is all Dijon clone 76, harvested at a shy 2.2 tons per acre and pressed with all whole clusters.”

90 points- Josh Reynolds, The International Wine Cellar, July 2009

2007 Pinot Noir Justice Vineyard

“Clean, juicy and fat-free, with excellent finishing clarity and cut. A serious value in grown-up, vibrant chardonnay. This is all Dijon clone 76, harvested at a shy 2.2 tons per acre and pressed with all whole clusters.”

92 points– Jay Miller, The Wine Advocate, Issue #185

2007 Pinot Noir Shea Vineyard

“[This] has an expressive nose that was singing on the day I encountered it. Smoke, cola, cassis, and cherry aromas are followed by a smooth-textured, layered, sweetly-fruited, mouth-filling, medium-bodied wine.”

91 points– Jay Miller, The Wine Advocate, Issue #185

2007 Pinot Noir Temperance Hill Vineyard

“An earthy, mineral-accented perfume along with aromas of black cherry, black raspberry, and mulberry from the darker side of the fruit spectrum.”

90 points- Jay Miller, The Wine Advocate, Issue #185

2007 Pinot Noir Villager's Cuvée

“A spicy bouquet of clove, cinnamon, and allspice. On the palate mineral notes, black cherry, and black raspberry flavors make an appearance. The wine has finesse and enough structure to drink well for 4-5 years.”

88 points- Jay Miller, The Wine Advocate, Issue #185

2007 Pinot Noir White Rose Vineyard

“The most elegant wine of the portfolio. It offers up a nearly ethereal perfume of spice box, mineral, rose petal, incense, and assorted red fruits. Medium-bodied, velvety, and complex, it has a nery energy that makes it hard to resist now. However, it has the balance to provide pleasure for another 8-10 years.”

92 points- Jay Miller, The Wine Advocate, Issue #185